

WALLPAPER REDUX

Wake up bare walls with pattern treatment

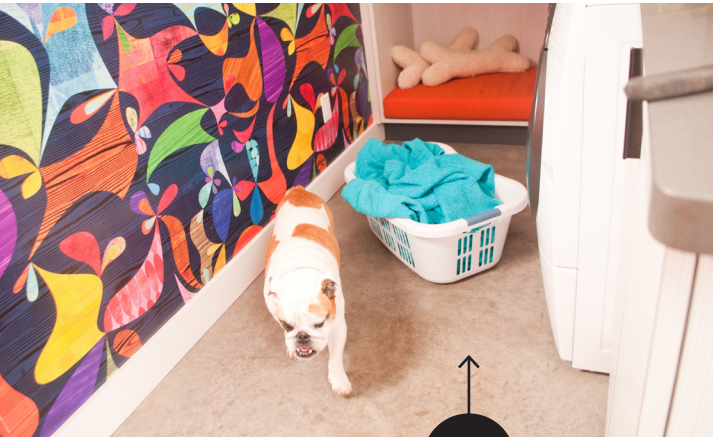

BY CHERYL CHENAULT RID | PHOTOS BY DAVID CALVERT

SOME WALLS BEG FOR COLOR. There's always the go-to solution of a splash of paint or a framed piece of art. But for an unusual treatment, try graphic wallpaper.

Wake up bare walls with the art of wallpaper. From serious to playful, landscapes to pop art, sepia tones to more than all the colors of the rainbow, there are themes, designs, patterns and textures to capture any vision.

Today's choices include traditional wallpaper, colored panels, stickers, decals and murals. You'll find a near endless offering of subject matter with some companies going so far as

IDEA

It's a dog's life — a built in doggie daybed and a bright and cheery wallpaper.

↑ ARTFUL NOOK
A comfortable place to put on shoes and be inspired by family photos and kids' art.

to translate your personal photography into panels sized and colored to your room's specifications. These large scale graphics are easy to reproduce and not as expensive as you might think.
Be courageous! Consider modern graphics or organic flora and fauna. Shimmering metallics, stressed leather, fabric or grass-cloth. There is a color, a

IDEA
A dynamic blend of shapes that resemble animals, flowers and fireworks transform this utility area.

→ YIN & YANG
Bold color contrasted with serene white for an artful balance. A continuous countertop creates ample space for folding.

← NEW ORDER
A place for everything and everything in its place...for the moment. Create efficient locker storage for each member of the family.

pattern and texture for every budget, taste and space.
When choosing a paper, decide where it has the most impact. Consult a professional installer to help you determine how many rolls you need for your project.
Wallpaper is a fun, creative, wall-covering alternative. Take a closer look at what's out there and I think you'll agree...it's not your grandmother's wallpaper anymore.

Cheryl Chenault is owner of Cheryl Chenault Interiors and can be reached at cherylchenault@sbcglobal.net